Varied Reaction in Newton To Arsenault Commutation

Newton citizens reacted in a variety of different ways o the action of Governor Furcolo and the Executive Council in commuting the death sentence of Henry P. Arsenault, Jr., who had been scheduled to die in the electric chair tonight for the slaying of Merrill Lovinger during a bungled holdup in a Newton home.

residents bitterly criticized the Governor and the five Councillors who spared Arse Bedroom Scuffle nault from the chair, maintaining that in effect they are cirumventing the law which alcommenting the law which allows capital punishment in this Youthful Burglar State when a judge and jury de cree that a first-degree murder er should pay the supreme pen-

Furcolo Making Drastic Move In Overhauling Office Staff

In his efforts to rebuild his political fences and trengthen himself for the bid he will make next year for eelection, Governor Furcolo is planning to replace some the amateurs on his office staff with professionals.

He could hardly and doesn't want to throw the memers of his executive force out onto the street so he's gong to "kick them upstairs" into jobs where they'll draw ligher pay and have greater administrative responsibility. That is the Governor's present intention. He hadn't said so publicly, but the manner in which he has parried he persistent and well-founded reports concerning his plans makes it rather clear that it is what he has in mind.

This is a tacit admission on Furcolo's part that he now realizes and recognizes that his stock has dropped during the first 10 months of his administration.

he believed he had increased his strength or even naintained the popularity he enjoyed when he assumed office, he would be eager to hold his staff together, not to break it up and place its members elsewhere.

A major shakeup and revamping of a Governor's office staff midway through his first term in office is a drastic tep. The only conclusion which can be drawn is that Furcolo believes drastic measures are necessary.

18-1 Vote of Aldermen Okays New Restaurant

A zoning change which will make possible the construction of a proposed $500,000 restaurant on the Worcester turnpike, near Florence street in Chestnut Hill, was authorized by an 18-1 vote of the Board of Aldermen this week. Aldermanic President Wende'l R. Bauckman cast the lone dissenting vote against the change in zoning restrictions.

Chairman William R. Mattson of the Aldermanic claims and rules committee told his fellow members that Valle's Restaurant, which has a numbor of well known eating places in Maine, plans to erect an establishment on the turnpike if the zoning restrictions are waived so that it may do so.

The zoning change tioned on the condition that a six-foot cedar fence be erected on the Florence street side of the restaurant.

$51,000 Added To Vandals Do Meet Old Age Cost Damage To

The Newton Board of Alder Parked Car men moved this week to provide an additional $61,000 which will be needed to cover remainder of the year.

The funds are needed because of higher medical expenses and a 5.7 per cent increase in old age assistance allowances voted by the State Legislature at its recent session.

A supplementary appropriation of $30,000 was approved by the Aldermanic Board, and $2,,000 was transferred from other welfare department accounts to the old age assistance budget.

Vandals raised havoc with the automobile of Henry Frattaroi while it was parked in old age assistance costs for the the driveway of his home at 17 Fernwood road. When he went out to get in his car, he found that the air had been let out of his tires, that windshield wipers had been stolen and that his radio aerial had been broken.

3 City Employees Defeated For Aldermanic Board Seats

Newton voters approved a $3000-a-year pay raise for Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., defeated two present Aldermen who were standing for reelection and sent nine new members to the Aldermanic Board and two to the School Committee in Tuesday's municipal election.

The balloting produced several minor upsets, and three of the contests were so close that the losing candidates indicated they would seek recounts.

One of the surprises was the defeat of Ward Alderman Adelaide B. Ball, only woman member of the Aldermanic Board, who lost by 86 votes to Joseph G. Bradley in Ward 1.

The vote totals were 978 for Bradley, 892 for Alderman Ball and 296 for George E. Morrissey, third candidate in the field. That is one of the election fights where a recount is expected.

Also defeated for re-election was Alderman-at-Large Win-field C. Anderson from Ward 7. He was ousted from his seat when presen Ward Alderman Benjamin Shattuck topped him by a margin of 772 votes after a fairly tight race across the

DEAR "HALLOWEEN PARTY" WORKER OF NEWTON

The 1957 Halloween parties have been an outstanding success. There were more children, young and old, who participated. There was greater enthusiasm. And everyone shared in a spectacular city-wide program.

The great response in attendance, program and activity could not have been possible without the assistance and co-operation of you, the evening workers, who spent many hours in planning and organizing for this one evening of Halloween

To you we express our sincere appreciation and compliments for a job well done. Without your effort, these parties of 1957 would not have been so successful. We are proud to have had the opportunity to work with you in the interests of this great community program.

Oak Hill Association Seeks Traffic Change

Plans for diverting industrial traffic away from Nahanton and Brookline streets were dis-cussed at the recent semi-annual meeting of the Oak Hill District Improvement Association at the Meadowbrook Junior High School.

The possibility of lessening traffic on those two heavily travelled streets was brought up during a question and answer period. Charles Downe, noted planner and speaker at the meeting, agreed to take the matter up with the Mayor's advisory committee.

The association's executive committee announced that a policy will be followed of inviting the presidents of P.T.A. organizations and improvement associations within the area to participate in its meetings. This will be done in an effort to broaden citizen participation in civic affairs, it was stated

Jack M. Roberts, secretary of the Oak Hll group, presided at the meeting in the absence of President Eric Hansen. Vice President Morton Braun introduced the speaker of the occasion, Mr. Downe.

His arguments were seconded and supported by Aldermen Ball, Cosgrove, Ripley and Sutherland, all of whom took the floor to speak in favor of the measure.

Opposition to the move was led by President Bauckman and Alderman Sharf.

A number of Newton clergy men voiced their opposition to Sunday bowling when a hearing on the matter was held by the Aldermen a few weeks ago. They contended that it would detract from the observance of

The issue was placed before the Aldermen when Albert O. Sinoyan, proprietor of the Garden City Bowladrome, filed petition for the acceptance of the law which authorizes the issuance of licenses for Sunday bowling.

Cannon, in urging favorable action by the Aldermanic Board, said that Sinoyan has removed the pool tables from his estab lishment and improved the alleys.

He pointed out that even though the legislative act were accepted Sinoyan would still have to file an application for a Sunday permit and appear before the Aldermanic commit tee on licenses and franchises.

His arguments, however, failed to sway a majority of his colleagues.

Kathryn Wulff Weds Kenneth Hadassah Group The November meeting of the Leeco Nov. 2

The Auburndale-Centernary Methodist church was the scene on November 2 of the ceremony which united in marriage Kathryn Gail Wulff and Kenneth Leeco. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wulff, of 162 Mt. Vernon Street, Newtonville; Mr. Leeco's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Leeco, of 19 Greystone street, Quincy.

The Rev. Sydney Adams officiated at the nuptials which saw Mr. Wulff give his daughter in marriage. She wore a bridal gown fashioned of skinner satin with a yoke of seed pearls and a cathredal train. Her heirloom rosepoint veil had been worn by her great aunt. White roses and stephanotis composed her bouquet.

Miss Phylis King was maid of honor for her cousin, and Rose Vaccaho of Waban and Deborah Needham of Wellesley were honorary bridesmaids. Robert Wulff served as best man; the ushers corps included John Lewis of Tyngsboro, Joseph Limber of Sharon, Fran-John cis Toronto of Boston and Paul Weaver of Middleboro.

The bride studied at Colby College and is presently a stu-dent of Wheelock College. The groom is a senior at Boston University. The couple will make their home at 12 Chiswill wick road, Brighton.

Police Drive to Make Christmas Merry for Boys

Donations from all the departments of the city government, commercial and industrial companies and surrounding communities have swelled the annual Newton Police Department campaign for a Christmas Fund for the Working Boys Home in Newton Highlands.

The drive was launched this week with donations by Chief Philip Purcell and Capt. Charles E. Walker.

For the past 17 years, Newton policemen have annually raised money to purchase "extras" for the boys at the home, and last year close to $3,000 was collected

Donations may be brought or mailed to headquarters. In charge of the campaign are Sgt. Albert Smith, Inspector Joseph Lyons and Patrolman T. Manley Kiley.

Executive Councillor Christian A. Herter, Jr., of Newton was one of the four members of the Governor's Council who voted against commutation. Had they prevailed in their stand, Arsenault would now be spending his last hours on earth and the State prison at Walpole would be preparing for its first execution.

Newton Police Chief Philip Purcell had been among those who had opposed clemency for Arsenault and his two com-Russell P. LeBlane. The death sentences imposed on Devlin and LeBlanc had been commuted earlier.

For the most part the public reaction in Newton to the com mutation of Arsenault's death sentence varied in accordance to whether or not the individual queried believed in capital pun-

Some persons voiced the opi nion that nothing would have been accomplished by the execution of Arsenault and expressed relief that the electric chair at the new State prison will still remain idle and unused.

They felt that the ends of justice will be adequately served by keeping Arsenault in prisor for the rest of his natural life Those who took the opposite view maintained that Arsenault's execution would have served as a deterrent to killers and murderers who show wan ton disregard for human life. They argued that unless and until capital punishment is wiped out by the people of Massa chusetts, the public officials of the State should uphold the laws try to find means of getting The Newton resident who presumably was most relieved at the action of the Executive Council was the man primarily responsible for sparing Arsenault's life - Governor Foster of the Commonwealth and not

Furcolo. Turned down by a 5-3 vote when he first submitted his re-commendation for mercy, Furcolo held a special session at the New Bedford home of a sick Councillor in order to obtain approval for his proposal for commutation.

During the summer Furcolo was successful in getting through a commutation of sentence for wife slayer Domenick Bonomi.

Members of the Executive Council who had to decide whether Arsenault should live or die indicated that the decision was not an easy one to make and that they wrestled with their consciences a long time before casting their votes.

Political Overtones

Eleven months from now, Furcolo will be in the midst of his campaign for reelection. There is little doubt that he will be fighting for his political life unless he can revise the downward trend of his popularity and prestige.

How far an overhaul of his executive staff will go in solving his problems and in restoring his fallen political fortunes is a question.

It is true that Furcolo's office force has not functioned as successfully or as effectively as it might have.

His staff members are partly responsible for the fact that the Governor's relations with the legislators and with the general public have not been better than they

They have done some things that aroused antagonism toward the Governor about which Furcolo apparently was unaware, and Governor Furcolo's desire to shake up and strengthen his staff before he starts his second and crucial year on Beacon Hill is understandable.

It has been painfully evident at times this year that Governor Furcolo was poorly advised and poorly briefed. A Governor cannot possibly keep abreast of everything going on around him, and he must depend upon his office force and advisers to keep him posted and to retain a sensitive finger on the public pulse.

As an example, Furcolo recently started to appoint a Lowell man to the State Industrial Accident Board and then backed gingerly away when it was brought out that the prospective appointee had retired on a disability pension on the ground that he was physically unable to perform the duties of the very job to which Furcolo intended to name him.

An efficient office staff would not have allowed Governor to get into that embarrassing predicament, at least not if they knew in advance what he was going to do. Governor Furcolo would be in much worse shape politically than he is if it were not for his own pleasing personality and his great personal charm and that

In fairness, it should be reported that some of Furcolo's staff members have functioned just as efficiently as any of their predecessors in the preceding administration on Beacon Hill.

James L. Vallely of West Roxbury, who served as Furcolo's legislative secretary, did about as effective a job as anyone could have done under the same circumstances. Vallely is no amateur in politics. He has served in the House of Representatives. He has been associated with other administrations. The fact that the fight over the sales tax bill was as close as it was, was partly the result of Vallely's tireless efforts. He was simply laboring under too many handicaps during the recent legisla-

It is also only fair to point out that the mistakes and blunders which have been made in the Governor's office this year can't all be charged against the members of the office staff. A good percentage of them were committed by Mr. Foster Furcolo himself.

Perhaps he was swayed and influenced by poor advice from persons around him, but in the final analysis he made the decisions, and in some instances the mistakes-about which Republican orators will be talking 11 months hence -were his and his alone.

It isn't likely that any of his staff members made the decision to try to oust two members of the State Milk Control Commission who had ruled against a client of Furcolo's while he was still practising law in western Massachusetts. That was a battle which ended in retreat and served to help send the Governor's stock downward.

It wasn't any secretary who demanded the resignation of Richard Preston as head of the State Department of Commerce and then spent several months trying to make up his mind whom to put in Preston's place.

It wasn't really the job of any member of the secretarial staff to maintain gubernatorial relations with former Speaker Michael F. Skerry or Democratic State Senate Leader John E. Powers. It was actually the Governor's responsibility to have a better working relationship with the two top Democrats in the House and

It wasn't a secretary who wrote the book, "Let George Do it." And the chapter in the book, which one columnist reported caused former Governor Paul A. Dever to explode, wasn't dictated by any secretary or assistant secretary. That was the brainchild of Foster Furcolo.

Perhaps Furcolo acted on someone else's advice when he suggested that Governor Faubus of Arkansas sit down with a group of Democratic Governors and attempt to reach some compromise agreement on his barring of colored children from the Central High School in Little Rock. Shrewd advisers would have. talked him out of issuing such a statement. But Furcolo should have known himself that this was a matter on which no compromise or mediation was possible.

It's true that Furcolo's office staff has made its full share of blunders and perhaps a little more. But some of Furcolo's own decisions haven't aided his cause, and it's going to take more than an overhaul of the gubernatorial office force to wipe out the effect of those decisions.

Some of Furcolo's supporters, of course, vigorously deny that he is kicking the members of his executive staff upstairs. They insist that what he really is doing is rewarding them for faithful service and giving them an opportunity to move up into more important jobs if they desire to take them.

That explanation, however, just doesn't stand up. Governor who has been in office less than a year and is planning to seek a second term, doesn't start looking around at this point for new jobs in which to place staff members who would be an asset to him in an elec-

It will be interesting to watch the operation of the Furcolo office staff during 1958, which will be a door-de year for the present Governor.

NEW SALES TAX BATTLE SEEN

IN LEGISLATURE NEXT YEAR-2 col 18 tempo italic It now seems virtually certain that a group of civic leaders will file a sales tax bill for consideration at the next session of the State Legislature.

That, of course, would set the stage for another sales tax battle on Beacon Hill some time during 1958. Governor Furcolo has declined, when pressed by reporters, to reveal his plans, if any, for the sales tax as far as next year is concerned. He has simply asserted that if he were going to submit another sales tax proposal, the first announcement of it would come when he presented it to the Legislature.

It's possible and perhaps even probable that a combination of civic organizations and leaders might be able perhaps brainwashed a bit so to marshal more Republican support than Furcolo was able to muster this year.

No sales tax measures will be enacted next year. however, unless Governor Furcolo wades into the fight with the same all-out vigor he employed this year.

He is committed to a sales tax as the solution to the financial problems confronting the State and its cities and towns, and he would lose some of the support he has attracted to himself if he failed to back a sales tax bill.

Whether he would make another all-out fight for a sales in an election year is a decision he presumably would job? Why are so many parents make after prolonged deliberations. Most observers, however, feel that the political advantages accruing to him from such a move would outweight the disadvan-

Editor, Newton Graphic:

What is the matter with the Cub Scout program that moths and fathers in most neighborhoods must be pressured be-yond belief into participating? If the Cub Scout program is so valuable to young boys, parents should be informed ahead of time of its importance and they will be more willing to be mothers and cubmasters etc. instead of taking on these jobs as a horrible duty to be suffered through only when no one else can be lassooed.

Should Cub activity be denied child because his mother won't take part? How can anyone be good as a den mother if she have been coerced into the so reluctant to take part?

I would like some answers from parents, not from the professional scouting organizations. ROPED IN

"In Newton we can be thankful that our life and times have brought on us problems that defy solution. To be sure there remains much to be improved-the instruction of the young is at best an imperfect

"But the great hope for Newton and its children is that its 87,000 citizens believe that education - whether public, independent, or church-related — is important and precious. And that peaceably and in good-will this large city, through the edu-cation of its children, will somehow move freedom forward.

Bigelow PTA Meets Nov. 14

A reception for Robert Frost, new principal of the Bigelow Junior High School, will be one of the features of a "back to school" program to be held Club and their friends at a fall next Thursday night (Nov. 14) fashion show next Wednesday by the Bigelow PTA.

Parents will visit the homerooms of their children from 8 to 8:10 that night and then from 8:10 to 9:27 will visit classes on schedule, just as their sons and daughters do during the day.

The purpose of the play is to enable parents to meet their children's teachers and to obtain a better understanding of their youngsters' school work. Coffee and doughnuts will be served under the auspices of the hospitality committee.

Officers of the Bigelow PTA are Mr. and Mrs. John Swanton, president; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rigelhaupt, first vice president; William Nichols, second vice president; and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Galner, third vice president.

Emanuel's Boys And Girls Will Have Happy Days of the Youth Activities Committee of Temple Emanuel of Newton announces a full scale of interesting programs for boys and girls of all ages. The programs are geared to meet the needs and interests of the membership.

Nearly 700 boys and girls have already registered for one or more of the activities. The game room for children 7 through 14 is open every afternoon with various games and ping-pong available. For the 7-11-year group there are special activities in arts and crafts: dramatics; Israeli dancing and singing, cooking and visual aid.

During the winter school vacations plans call for parties, professional entertainment, talents shows, trips to places of interest, swimming and bowling parties, hay and sleigh rides. The temple also has an active

A NEW KIND OF CAR IS BORN!

ROMESTANANCE

It's a revolution on wheels-boldly planned from the very beginning as a Golden Anniversary showpiece for Pontiac and General

This one you really must see—here is a car unlike any you have ever known! This Golden Jubilee Pontiac is actually an all-new breed of cars-in four brilliant series and 16 sleek models covering virtually every price bracket.

In all of them you'll find engineering advances so daringly different yet so basically sound that they will trigger the next big change in automobile design. You'll find a few of these ideas illustrated here, but even they can't begin to tell the full

Why not be among the first to discover the newest. When you meet this bold new Pontiac, you're in for a driving thrill that is impossible to duplicate in cars of conventional design. So make it a point to see your Pontiac dealer soon and prove to yourself that no car in history ever left yesterday so far behind!

Pontiac's New Air Ride

Ever-Level Air Ride st

The most perfect suspension system ever designed—and Pontiac's revolutionary Aero-Frame is specifically designed for it!

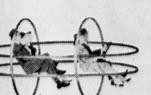

Air cushions on all four wheels literally float you over the bumps . . . keep the car perfectly level regardless of load or road!

An extra-cost option.

N50 YEARS!

Aero-Frame STABILITY

Here is the biggest basic construction change since the early days of motoring. Pontiac's revolutionary new frame design is lighter, stronger, more stable than the conventional box type used on other cars.

Quadra-Poise ROADABILITY

Only the wheels know where the bumps are! Pontiac's new suspension geometry ends dive, sway and bounce to bring you the smoothest ride, easiest handling you've ever known!

Pontiac's completely new body construction surrounds you with girder steel protection-above, below, fore and aft. Now you can drive with wonderful new peace of mind!

Tempest 395 PERFORMANCE

Try Pontiac's new jeweled-action response! Scores of exclusive engineering innovations make Pontiac's hefty power plant a miracle of smoothness . . . and you can choose from four horsepower ratings including Tri-Power Carburetion* and Fuel Injection*.

Horace Mann Kindergarten

The Horace Mann kindergarten held a tea at which the teacher, Miss Wall, outlined the program and explained that indergarten was not all play. Health and safety were taught as well as proper use of maconstruction and drawing. A film with puppet actors, on how to use the telephone, was presented.

The children brought cups saucers, the brought cookies, and the teacher furnished the tea and sugar.

Deming of 14 Jameson road from Ward 8.

Hawkridge defeated Harry L. Walen of 6 Floral street a margin of 113 votes in a contest in which a recount probably will be sought

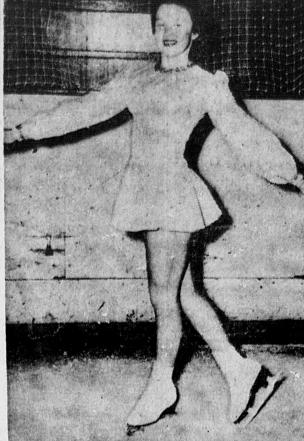

An unusual phase of that hot race was that Walen topped Hawkridge in six of the city's eight wards. But Hawkridge piled up big piuralities in Wards 4 and 6, particularly in Ward 4, to wipe out Walen's advan-tage in the rest of Newton and surge home a winner.
Their totals 6645 for Hawk-

14 minutes

14 minutes of your time each week is needed to enable the 377 agencies supported by your United Fund to provide essential services used by over half a million people.

For the first time ever in Greater Boston, you can now combine all your giving for the whole year and avoid the bother and added expense of many solicitations. The United Fund brings together the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Arthritis and Rheumatism, Mental Health, Diabetes Society, USO with the 288 Red Feather organizations and the Medical Foundation of Metropolitan Boston which will support research and education on the disabling diseases, thus making it really possible to give once for all.

Experience in other comparable cities where United Funds have been successful has shown that a fair share for the support of these many services is at least 14 minutes of your wages weekly over a 52-week period. You can take advantage of the Voluntary Payroll Contribution Plan offered by your employer and become one of Greater Boston's Fair Share citizens.

TAKE 14 MINUTES OF YOUR TIME AND BECOME ONE OF GREATER BOSTON'S MOST GENEROUS CITIZENS

With 14 minutes of your time, you can make a crippled child walk again . . . make sure that disaster victims get fed . . . make sick and forgotten old folks happier . . . help research scientists find a cure for a killing disease . . . find a home for an unloved child . . . snatch someone from death with a blood transfusion. You would never hesitate to take 14 minutes of your time to dry the tears of a little child in trouble. Now you can do this, though you may never see the child, through your United Fund

14 MINUTES OF YOUR WAGES EACH WEEK WILL PROVIDE THE MONEY FOR THESE VITAL SERVICES

HEADQUARTERS: 14 SOMERSET STREET

Helping the young and old: Your United Fund makes possible counsel and assistance to the aged, day care for children of working parents, guidance and protection for homeless, neglected and disturbed children through Red Feather agencies and departments of the Red Cross and Salvation Army.

Armed Forces: Your United Fund, through the USO, Salvation Army and Red Cross, helps to maintain social and recreational centers here and abroad for servicemen and to give them a lift with family and other social problems.

Disasters at Home and Abroad: Your United Fund provides emergency care and long-range assistance to fellow Americans and people in other lands with disaster, health and other problems through such agencies as the Salvation Army, Red Cross and USO.

Tomorrow's Citizens: Your United Fund, through such agencies as the Y's, Boys' and Girls' Clubs, Camp Fire Girls, Neighborhood Houses and others, serves youth through citizenship training, camping, recreation and safety education. These are the most important steps in combatting invented deligances.

O. KELLEY ANDERSON, 1958 United Fund General Chairman, says: "We, the givers, have brought about this United Fund. You can help make it successful by doing your fair share... by contributing an amount equal to 14 MINUTES PAY PER WEEK, the approved community-wide standard of giving."

Rehabilitation of the Handicapped: Your United Fund, through such agencies as the Boston Guild for the Hard of Hearing, Red Cross and Community Workshops, leads the crippled and blind and otherwise handicapped people toward happy and useful lives. Through modern rehabilitation techniques they are made self-supporting.

Home Care: Your United Fund, through the Visiting Nurse Assn., Family Service Association, Red Cross and other agencies, provides nursing, home-maker service, counseling and health programs, as well as help to families with marital and legal difficulties, financial and home management.

Medical Services: Your United Fund improves community health through research, experimentation and education, blood and blood derivatives, aid to the poor, clinical and in-patient medical care through a network of hospitals and such agencies as Arthritis and Rheumatism, Mental Health Assn., Diabetes Society and the Medical Foundation.

HERE'S HOW EASY IT IS TO MAKE YOUR GIFT: Most companies in the community are cooperating in the Voluntary Payroll Contribution Plan that makes it simple for you to give your fair share. Pledge cards will be distributed in your plant or office. The small weekly payment will be automatically deducted from your wages each week and sent to the United Fund.

Colleges Need Financial Aid, Says Educator

The Newton Rotary Club heard Harold Howe, principal of the Newton High School, dis-"Through the Diploma Curtain" at its luncheon meet-ing on Monday. Reviewing some of the pressures being ex erted on schools today, Dr. Howe stated that the higher education facilities cannot be expanded rapidly enough to ac commodate the ever-larger num ber of applicants. .

"The facts are," he said, that more and more youngsters are staying on through the senior year of high school with the hopeful intention of going on to college. It is par ticularly difficult for private col leges to meet the pressures with which they are beset be-cause the capital is not easily available for rapid expansion.

"The international situation and the rapid progress of the Soviet Union in the area of scientific achievement, is also an important stimulator of pres sure on our American educa-tional system," he continued. It is asked to meet and quickly surpass the attainments of oth

Dr. Howe explained that "our perspective must be adjusted to the reality situation" and that we must accept the fact that within the very near future only those applicants who are imbued with a "sense of purpose" will survive the college period.

He called for greater financial aid for the youngster who is academically able but in finan cial difficulty, and stated that multiple applications will nave to be discouraged so that this "artificial pressure" is not added to the inescapable ones.

The New England parent will have to recognize that "higher education is possible outside of New England".

BANKS BIRTHDAY HAUL According to George W. Ar-buckle, manager of the bank's accounting department, the five cent deposit is rare, as is the $900 deposit made by one grade school boy. (He must have had a tremendous birthday haul!) We get some strange things in those envelopes" Arbuckle says, "All kinds of Mexican, Peruvilan or Canadian money — pleces of candy — and Valentines and Christmas cards in

The bank's system of dealing with these thousands of small depositors is unique. Amounts are entered on passbooks on a Burroughs Sensimatic Account ing Machine and tape recorded for entrance on the bank's led-

SURPRISE WINDFALL

Despite this electronic efficiency, an occasional error creeps in, and one youngster was delighted recently to discover in his passbook that $7563 had been credited to his account! Somehow his deposit had been added to the number of his book. His wealth and his joy were both short-lived.

Children in grades 1 through 6 are the best savers, says Arbuckle. The accounts in junior high school age not nourished so regularly, and some become completely inactive.

Most boys and girls are saving for a purpose, and quite often funds are withdrawn for a bicycle or some other large purchase. In June there are a great many withdrawals for payment of vacation weeks at camp.

PROS AND CONS

Some criticize school banking on the grounds that is takes way responsibility that prop erly rests with the parents. But a PTA poll completed last month in neighboring Wellesley gave the program a strong 4-1 ndorsement.

Newton School Superinten-dent Harold B. Gores is enthusiastic about in-school banking. One good way to support our free enterprise system," Gores, "is to make a capitalist out of everyone at an early age. Indoctrination in habits of thrift, and the idea of regular savings is important in our

The policy of the Newton Savings Bank is that it be purely voluntary in each classroom, with no pressure to participate. It is presented as a service for those interested, but no prizes or banners are awarded to any school or room for a high participation rating

COMPETITION OUT The idea of competition among pupils for high dollar totals is avoided. Regularity and the value of saving in general is emphasized. Many teachers make bank day an opportunity to discuss simple mone tary fundamentals and banking procedures.

Saving in school is not a new idea. Appropriately enough. it originated in Scotland in 1810, and has been very popular in such far apart places as Japan

By 1929, there were 900 banks running school savings programs in the U.S. alone. After the crash, the number fell off drastically, but began to build up after World War II until now there are close to 4,150,000 pupil depositors across the country.

Sharf to Help Harvard Drive

Alderman Hirsh Sharf of 143 Woodchester drive, Chestnut Hill, was named this week by President Nathan M. Pusey of Harvard University as a member of the Greater Boston Spe cial Gifts Committee of a Program for Harvard College.

The program in which Sharf will aid seeks to enlist the sup-port of 12,000 Harvard College graduates in Greater Boston in raising $82,500,000 to strengthen undergraduate education at Harvard.

Alderman Sharf, who graduated from Harvard College with an A.B. degree in 1927, is president of M. Sharf & Company He also is serving as national director for American Toy Wholesalers and as past president of the New England Toy Wholesalers.

He is national vice president of the National Federation of Temple Brotherhoods and is a member of the Harvard Club of Boston.

Mass. Council of Churches Elects Dr. R. H. Bishop

Rev. Dr. Russell Hawley pastor of the First Church of Newton Baptist Centre, was elected president of the Massachusetts Council of Churches at its annual meeting last Monday.

Dr. Bishop succeeds Rev. Dr. Albert Buckner Coe, president of the Massachusetts Congregational Christian Conference.

The Council of Churches comprises 1800 churches and the presidency normally changes every two years.

The new president has been pastor of the Newton Centre Church since 1949 and chairman of the Department of International Relations of the Massachusetts Council of Churches since 1951. This department is now known as the Department of Church World Responsibility.

He is also a member of the Board of Education and Publi-cation of the 6600-church American Baptist Convention, and of the Board of Trustees of the Andover Newton Theologi-cal School at Newton Centre.

Before coming to Newton, he served pastorates in Ardmore and Erie, Pa. He holds degrees from Syracuse University and the Colgate-Rochester Divinity

DIABETIC WEEK

One of the major discoveries of science during this amazing 20th century was that of insulin.

Perhaps, at some future date, we will consider it even more important than the Russian feat of sending a Sputnik Church, Newton Centre. into sky lanes never traveled by man. Perhaps, if man doesn't commit himself to mass suicide by the use of some devilish offspring of Sputnik, insulin will eventually save more human lives than strange missiles will take away.

Medical men estimate that 1,000,000 Americans now suffer from diabetes and don't know it.

Such an organization as the important Charles River Medical Society warns that unless these diabetics are discovered, many of these victims will know serious or even fatal complications with the passage of time.

Next week, designated as Diabetes Week, is an appropriate time to help discover those unknowing victims. Medical men now say that diabetes need not be feared as an ailment—particularly if it is discovered early. Today, practically all diabetics enjoy active, normal lives.

Before the miracle of insulin, the only possible treatment was the restriction of diet almost to the point of starvation and that treatment, more often than not, failed to prevent the development of complications and early death. Today, it is the diabetic whose condition has gone long undetected and untreated who faces a serious threat to a

Diabetes is hereditary. Of the total population of the United States, 40 million persons—or 1 out of every 4 persons—are believed to be diabetic "carriers." "Carriers" of diabetes are those who are free of the condition themselves but who transmit the tendency to it.

The diabetic detection drive next week will be conducted by the American Diabetes Association in cooperation with its 41 affiliate units throughout the United States and with more than 900 county and State Medical Societies. During Diabetes Week detection tests will be provided in most local communities in Massachusetts.

The goal is to find as many as possible of the approximately one million undetected diabetic men, women and children, and at the same time to educate the American public on the symptoms and the importance of early detection and control of the condition. Consult your physician if you have cause to believe you are a potential victim as a result of heredity or other reasons.

Political Overtones

in politics, it could be regarded merely as a collection of somewhat hoary political anecdotes on the curbstone Temple Emanuel, Newton Cenlevel. But when the author is a Governor, who makes it tre.

clear that he thinks the book has a message, it cannot be dismissed so lightly. "If you read the chapter in LIFE magazine, you have" a pretty good idea of the book. To me, the characters are almost incredible. In some form or other, I suppose they exist .though in some years in politics, I have had the good fortune not to be associated with them. The characters "And the shocking thing is the clear implication, strengthened by the Governor's solemn epilogue, that the voters can be so easily taken in by buffoonery. I simply do not believe it, and I consider this book an insult, not only to politicians, but to the thousands of people who care about their government. 'In the past week we have seen once more that there Only the Ivy," Workshop, New-are many such people. A good deal has been written and ton Highlands. said about the significance of last week's elections. To me, their outstanding feature has been the renewed demonstration that when there is an issue, the voters can and do go into action. "The Boston School Committee results, the upset in Medford on the issue of the city manager, the victory of the parents in the school referendum in Cambridge-all these are heartening evidence of a growing popular interest and understanding of politics.

"The encouragement of this interest and understanding is one of our most crucial tasks if our government is to operate as it should. I doubt that the Governor's book will help much."

Gibbons, incidentally, has told the members of the Republican State Committee's executive board that he would like to step out of the committee's chairmanship about Dec. 1 and begin his drive for the GOP nomination

The executive group already has begun screening possible choices to succeed Gibbons and should come up with one or more recommendations within the next few

The decision on the selection of the next chairman of the Republican State Committee will be neither a simple nor an easy one to make

One requisite will be that the man chosen be strictly neutral in the fight for the Republican gubernatorial nomination and the right to oppose Governor Furcolo next year. All elements within the GOP will insist upon that.

It is also important that the Republican State Committee members pick a man who is prominent enough and whose name is sufficiently well known so that he can serve as an effective spokesman for the GOP during the 1958 legislative session and command some attention when he

One of the men being considered is former Republican State Committee Chairman Daniel Tyler, Jr., of Brookline. Tyler also was considered last December, but at the time he was not disposed to step out and make a fight for the post.

A second possibility is Alex Sullivan, who founded the Republican Club of Suffolk County. The third name under consideration is that of a former Mayor of Brockton. Other candidates may be discussed as the executive committee continues its deliberations,

At Veterans Day Exercises

Congressman Laurence Curtis in a Veterans' Day address in the War Memorial at Newton City Hall this week stressed the need for placing the greatest possible emphasis on education and scientific development.

"America's own defenses must be strong," Curtis told his listeners. "Her scientific achievements both for war and peace must be second to none. This is a time for Americans to think more of the real needs of their country for education, for scientific development, and for unity of purpose, than to think School. The 12,000 temporary visitors are honey bees.

They were dispossessed from their original home at Science Park in mid-summer. At that ime construction workers were laying the foundation for the Science Museum's new Central Building.

The suggestion was made that maybe the workmen would be nervous and more free to concentrate on their steel drills, cement pouring and rivet guns if the bees were in residence somewhere else.

That was the situation when Newton and Arthur Southwick came into the picture. Mr. Southwick is superintendent of boat locks and draw bridges for the Metropolitan District Commission. He not only has an office close by the Science Museum but he's a former president of the Mid-dlesex County Beekeepers' Association.

Besides that, he had helped to set up the bees' home in the Museum three years ago. When the Museum reviewed all those facts and especportunity he offered to board the bees in his attic for a spell.

Thus the colony-12,000 workers and one queen came to Mr. jewelry, books, sporting goods, Southwick's attic at 176 Waban silver and bric-a-brae for sale at Gibbs conceded that the B&A confronted with a problem in operating the unprofitable commuter service, but he maintained that it is a problem which could be overcome by joint action of city officials, railroad heads and labor organizations.

He said the railroad itself can cut down operating costs by placing lightweight cars in use with only one man on them.

The labor unions, Gibbs de clared, should stop featherbedding which adds unwarranted expense to railroad operations. Thirdly, Gibbs asserted, Newton and other cities could pare down the tax assessments on the railroad properties in order to enable the commuter lines to remain in business and provide a necessary service for the peo-

"THEY'RE CATCHING ON, BUT THEY CAN'T CATCH UP." That's how lots of people feel about the "new 1958" cars that are trying to match the Dodge Swept-Wing look. These other cars have been lowered some, but still seem high and boxy by comparison. A few are "catching on" to fins, but they're years from

"catching up." And the air suspension offered by some cars (at well over $100 extra) can't compare with the sway-free, dip-free ride of Dodge Torsion-Aire (standard equipment on all models). Representative George E. Rawson of Newton today accused officials of the Boston & Albany railroad of displaying "amazing lack of candor" in the peitition they filed for fare increases on their com-

"They are either asking for the moon, hoping to be given a nice slice of the green cheese, of which it is reported to be made, or else they are hoping it will be refused so they will have an alibi for seeking permission to abandon commuting service altogether," said Raw son. "In either case they have a consummate nerve.

"As a regular commuter from Newton to Boston for the last 38 years," said Rawson, "I have found the trains which I use in the morning and evening well patronized. I believe that service at the rush hours could be made to pay.

"It is my humble opinion that if the management of the road possessed a mere fraction of purpose to tender reliable, efficient service to the public, it

"Instead we have absentee ownership by the New York Central of what used to be our local Boston & Albany, and absentee ownership does not necessarily feel the same consideration for local needs and conditions.
"The rumor seeks to persist that the N. Y. Central is anxious to have an excuse for asking permission to abandon loca' passenger service," Raw-son continued. "I am one of those ready to oppose that befor the Public Utilities Commission because of the blow it would deal to Newton. I expect to be joined by representatives of the other communities along the line."

Rawson declared that if the railroad expects a moderate fare increase it should say so and try to justify it by frank and honest figures "which all can understand."

Tuesday (Nov. 19), it was an-nounced this week by Alden too close to the leaves, and the leg of his trousers caught fire. Robert, who had been standing on the front steps of the Reichenbach home, talking to Mrs. Reichenbach, turned as she went inside and heard Paul shout in both fear and pain. He saw instantly that the boy's clothing was on fire.

The Boy Scout manual says that in such cases a scout should wrap a blanket around the person afire and roll him on the ground until the flames are extinguished.

Robert didn't have a blanket, but he peeled off his jacket, raced to the burning youngster, and rolled him over and over on the ground, beating out the flames with his jacket as he did. Mrs. Reichenbach heard the shouting, glanced out the win-dow and thought the two boys on the ground were fighting. Then she realized what had happened and ran out to take Paul to a doctor.

Robert is a sixth grade student and Paul a kindergarten pupil at the Bowen School.

anted 8 or 9 per cent of the population who are either color blind or partially so, we might mention that everybody is color blind in one respect. . that is, when it comes to fine details and faraway objects. Watching an auto approach from a point miles away on the open highway, you may first identify it as having a dark color; but it will have to get a lot closer before you can tell (even with the most normal color vision) whether the car is black, maroon, green or blue. Distance reduces the "size" of any object, until all we can see is its degree of brightness—black or gray or white.

brishness—black or gray or white.

Compatible-color TV would scarcely have been possible without this natural limitation of the human eye—its inability to distinguish the colors of fine details. The viewer doesn's actually need to "see" all the color he thinks he is seeing. Consequently, color signals need occupy only the lower range of the frequencies assigned to any one TV channel. This leaves room to reproduce accurately the degree of brishness in the fine details which makes for complete ciarrity of the TV picture, whether it's viewed on the screen of a color or black-and-white set.

In addition to scholof lawyers, revocation of the licenses of doctors and jail arship programs, the possibility of new educational facilities and terms for perjurers in "phony" other questions concerned with higher education will come up

"My experience leads me to wish we could repeal the compulsory law and substitute the Connecticut plan of a financial responsibility law for all drivers which has worked there successfully for years, and which has been copied by 45 States and the District of Connecticut," Rawson declared.

"In Connecticut some 94 percent of car owners carry insurance. The remainder drive carefully because they know they will have to pay for their accidents, otherwise both driving license and registration will be taken away until they do pay.

"That is only wishful think ing, of course for repeal is impossible because there are too many lawyers in the General Court — especially lawyers whose business is so largely motor vehicle tort cases," the Newton legislator asserted.

"The present law makes possible a field day for the socalled ambulance-chasing lawyer, for everyone has insurance. It is easy to make the jury think a great insurance company is ripe for being plucked for the plaintiff. The fact is that the whole body of car owners is paying the bill.

"Since the law requires that every, car owner be insuredthose bad risks refused insurby the companies are placed in the assigned risk pool, the members of which are distributed among the various companies. These are the worst drivers, the most fruitful source of accident claims," Rawson continued. "It seems fair to me either to abolish the assigned risk pool and thus put these drivers off the road or else increase the rates which they pay. As it is now, all the rest of us are helping pay for the damages which they do.

THEATRE "Governor Herter's merit rating law was sound. The COOLIDGE CORNER ragedy was that the General Court repealed it before it had a chance to be really tried," he

"Two things must happen before there will be an adequate solution. The driving habits of the public must improve so there will be fewer accident claims. That is the personal responsibility of every car owner," Rawson stated.

"The insurance companies must 'get tough' with phony When it becomes apparent that an attorney is habitually pressing phony claims, he should be disbarred," Representative Rawson went on.

"If there is evidence that a physician is certifying to injuries that do not exist, the revocation of his license should be sought.

"If a witness has committee perjury he should be jailed.

"Consistent treatment of this sort would put an end to fraudulent claims which cost the public a lot of money. That is the responsibility of the insurance companies.

"Also the insurance broker should look on his business as a profession which it really is and be careful in the selection of risks which he presents to his insurance company. A good insurance broker does not want rivers with bad records on his books—they can give him a bad record as a producer," Rawson concluded.

if you subtracted Jim's score. But when the teams returned for the second half Connerney put on a show seldom equalled on the Dickinson turf. When the final whistle blew, he had accounted for four TDs to bring his seasonal point total to 59.

He took a punt on his own eight-yard line early in the third period and went 92 yards with a blinding burst of speed. If the Newton boys were knowing any jitters up to that point, they became cold as Reno gaming table croupiers after that

Lynn English was never really in the ball game after that score. Pete Thomson, Newton fullback, set up the third score with consecutive runs of 24 and Vento sneaked over from the

Waltham Backs Too Fast; Line Too Tough for Tigers

Newton High's hopes for assuming the crown of Eastern Massachusetts' Class A high schools were buried last Saturday afternoon, without too much ceremony but a maximum of eclat in Dickinson Stadium before a crowd of 9000, most of them Tiger partisans.

In dishing out a 27-7 defeat, Waltham High's very efficient eleven established its own rights to the crown. At the same time it brought to an end an Orange and Black victory skein which showed nine straight wins dating back to the 1956 season and 11 games without a defeat.

most of the spectators were worried about finding their cars and getting home for supper as that bit of curtain-dropping artistry was carried out.

Besides Waltham took a lot of the glitter out of even that feat by scoring a quickie TD itself, just to show it knew all the tricks.

Waltham stayed on the ground for the most part. It tried nine aerials and succeeded in completing only one. However, the mastery of its ground game sufficed. The Waltham boys ground out 292 yards the hard way and they did it with such efficient grace that it looked a bit on the easy side.

Rawson (with glasses), City Clerk Monte G. Basbas, Representative Charles H. McGlue, Registrar Donald H. Bishop and Alfred R. Guzzi, losing candidate; (seated) Mrs. Wallace M. Ross, Mrs. George Braceland, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Bradley, Mrs. Hazel J. Holmes (back to camera), and Mrs. H. Edgar Beaven.

Defeats of Guzzi and Miss Ball Official With Recounts Finished

Recounts of the ballots cast in two of the contests for places in the Newton Board Aldermen resulted in only minor revisions in the vote totals of the candidates involved and did not change the original results of the election.

The retabulations were made of the vote for Ward Alderman from Ward 1 and of city-wide ballots cast in the election of Alderman-at-large from Ward 2 Alderman Adelaide B. Ball, lone woman member on the Aldermanic Board, who was defeated in her bid for reelection, requested the recount in Ward 1.

Burglars Raid Candy Showcase at Theatre

Burglars, believed to be teen-age boys, raided the candy showcase at the West Newton Theatre, 1296 Washington street, last weekend and stole $55.40 in cash from two boxes. The fact that the robbers forced open the candy case and helped themselves to its contents created the belief that they were youths.

Alfred R. Guzzi, who was nosed out for a seat on the Board of Aldermen in one of the election-day surprises, filed the petition asking a recount of the vote for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 2. The defeats of Guzzi and Miss Ball are now

Herter Challenges Propriety Of Ex-Governor Dever's Role

Governor's Councillor Christian A. Herter, Jr., posed an extremely interesting point when he raised a question as to the propriety of former Governor Paul A. Dever serving as counsel for the Boston & Maine railroad which is seeking to make drastic cuts in the commuter service it furnishes to the public.

. As an attorney, Mr. Dever has an undisputed right to work for anyone who wishes to engage his legal services and talents. But it is a bit difficult to separate Paul A. Dever the attorney from Paul A. Dever the influential Democratic leader.

State Senator John E. Powers undoubtedly meant exactly what he said, when he declared that the inquiry his special legislative commission is making into railroad transportation will be conducted in a strickly impartial manner and without influence from any side.

It is rather naive, however, to assume that the fact that Dever was acting as counsel for the B & M would not influence the thinking of some legislators and other public officials at the State House who might not be quite as strong-minded as Powers. Councillor Herter drew a return fire from Democratic quarters when he levelled his criticism at Dever's appointment as counsel for the B & M. Let's take his arguments point by point and see whether they stand up.

Newton has become the first city in New England to have a community chaplain, non-denominational, qualified in psychology, counseling and clinical nursing care.

Reverend Walter C. Voll. re cently of the Anover-Newton Theological School and for thirty years a Presbyterian clergyman, most of which time was spent in Turkey and the Middle East countries, has acquired the Page Nursing Home at 14 Newtonville avenue, New-Whitmore, Jr., was presented ton, and will conduct it under to Murphy by William E. Halli-the name of the Voll Nursing Home.

The clergyman states that in his work in ministering to many persons in Newton and in Greater Boston, he has found that the physical, spiritual and mental needs of the sick or aged can be more fully met by the community chaplain. He has therefore offered his services to any Newton family who may need such a service for a loved

Following his graduation from Buffalo University, Colum University and Bangor Theological Seminary, the Rev. Mr. Voll taught for many years Roberts College, Istanbul, Turkey. He has lived and travelied in all the Middle East countries, and speaks several lan-guages. He was an interpreter for Allied Forces during the war. He is an authority on Turkey, and was called to Washington in an advisory capacity on Marshall Aid plans for Turk-

In recent years, Rev. Voll has become interested in the need for community chaplaincy in carrying out the studies of psychology, counseling and individual or group therapy. He soon realized the need for a community chaplain in Newton who also qualified as a clinically trained person. He studied clinical nursing at Boston City Hospital for two years, and has aroused the awareness of many New England communities to the need for community chaplains trained in psychology and picked up 2. That was a total change of 29 votes which cost the city's taxpayers about $275, or slightly less than $10 per mistake. The recounting of the ballots was done by election officers who were paid $8 for a half day on the Ward 1 recount and $17 for a full day on the Guzzi-Auryansen recheck.

Partisan political feeling over the tense fight between Guzzi and Auryansen was reflected by the arguments over disput ed ballots which developed during the recount.

Guzzi was represented at the recount by Attorney Charles H. McGlue, well known political figure who is frequently en-gaged by the Democratic State Committee and Democratic candidates to serve as their counsel during election disputes.

Representative George E. Rawson of Newton, a member of the legislative committee on election laws, represented Auryansen at the hearing. McGlue challenged a total of 39 ballots. This means that he could carry the election into court if he desired. Up to the present time, however, there has been no indication that he intends to do so.

Israeli Religious Leader Will Speak At Emanuel

David Freeman, president of the Moriah Synagogue Haifa, Israel, will be the speaker tomorrow night at the services of the Temple Emanue' in Newton. He will talk on religious life in Israel.

Mr. Freeman is a delegate to the 1957 national biennial convention of the United Syna-gogue of America.

A native of England, he mi-grated to Haifa in 1946. Since the establishment of the State of Israe', he has held a top executive position in the ministry of finance and is also a noted author and playwright.

Dr. Albert I Gordon, spirit-ual leader of Temple Israel, will conduct the service. Cantor Gabriel Hochberg will chant the liturgy.

Seek Signatures To Eliminate Pension Abuses

Residents of this city who wish to support the petition to eliminate abuses in pension payments can sign the petition forms at the office of the Newton Taxpayers' Association, 302 Walnut st., Newtonville, Executive Director Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., has announced. Personnel will be available for that purpose from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., on weekdays except Saturday through the rest of this month.

Abuses in the obtaining of disability pensions have widespread. So-called disabled pensioners have been earning substantial pay in jobs requir-ing skills of the very kind in which they had claimed they were disabled. The governor's recently proposed appointment of a man to the same job from which he was retired as disabled in 1956 is an embarrassing sample. This particular case was caught in time, but it is symptomatic of the situation.

The state legislature finally fortified its courage enough this year to pass a bill limiting disability pension payments by taxpavers to such an amount that the "disabled" one's outside income plus the pension would not exceed the full salary of the job from which he was pensioned. But the law applies orly to future cases, Muther stated.

The purpose of the present petition is to close up the gap in the newly passed disability pen-sion law and bring all present pensioners within its scope.

Slow Down at Sundown

Every once in a while safety engineers, directly concerned with doing something about the national scandal of highway slaughter, get an inspiration. The inspiration, more often than not, produces a catchy slogan.

The slogan looks good on paper. It says in a few words what statistics, coroners' juries, police, hospital officials, physicians and undertakers require stacks of papers and reports to say in a lot of words.

To this desk the other day from the Massachusetts division of the American Automobile Association came

"Slow down at sundown," read the slogan.

Analyze it. Keep in mind as you realize that a good part of that American highway slaughter every year occurs at that time of the day when it might seem too early to put on the lights.

You'll have to agree that it's a pretty good slogan. This is the time of the year when people generally get away from the light-colored clothing of the summer. Winter and fall clothing is dark. Unless that boy in front of you has a tail light on his bicycle he's going to be difficult to see when the sun is about to go down.

The chance pedestrian at that time of the day is on his way home. He's in more of a hurry than ordinarily. Mrs. Florence Gardener, Mrs. He is hungry. His day's work is behind him. And so the pedestrian may take a chance he wouldn't take when he was more alert.

He can see you fairly well, too. But he also figures you can see him fairly well.

Too often, that boy on the bicycle; or that man coming home from work wind up as a paragraph in the obituary column. Safety organizations add another statistic to their always growing column of figures.

The more you think it over, the better you like the slogan. It is indeed a good idea—"Slow Down at Sundown."

Those Traditional Games

For half a century - give or take a few years either way — high school "Thanksgiving games" have been part jorie of the New England scene on this typical New England Gallagher. holiday the region now shares with the rest of the country.

For some coaches the games are more important than any other. The jobs of many of them can often be decided on the ability of the teams they field to win "the big one."

For most of the young players the games are more and Mrs. James Cardell. An decorated the tea table. important than those which preceded during the seasonsimply because their elders become quite worked up about them and because the youngsters themselves started hearing about Thanksgiving games almost from the time they were able to understand

For the crowds — Thanksgiving games are important. The crowds are big. It's part of the holiday program to be on hand to cheer the favorite team to victory.

However, the coaches form only a small percentage of the educational personnel of their schools. The players are only a fragmental part of the student body. The most rabid members of the crowds will soon forget the "unforgettable play" as some "immortal player" rose to a climactic occasion during the comparatively brief two-hour

Indeed, the player out of high school 10, 15 or 20 years will more likely than not forget all details of the incident which projected him into temporary "immortalsports, warn some medical authorities, are serving to produce a nation of weaklings.

And yet, when another Thanksgiving rolls around there's something comforting in knowing that, as a young nation, we have acquired a lot of set traditions-traditions that call for cheerful, enthusiastic acceptance.

Maybe, football-all football on the high school and college level—is in need of de-emphasizing (whatever that is). Yet, we hope they never get around to letting a Thanksgiving morning go by without a football game—a good traditional high school football game on tap within

Certainly no one has come up with an idea which can stand as a similar challenge to that turkey.

First Herter asserted that "it would be a shocking thing if the Boston & Maine were to use political influence to obtain support of plans which would be detrimental to many thousands of people who depend upon the Boston & Maine for commuter service." No one is likely to challenge

Then Herter went on to say:

"Yet, the only fair and reasonable conclusion which could be drawn from Mr. Dever's appointment by the Boston & Maine to such a role is that it would be an outright bid for Democratic support.

There is no question but that Mr. Dever has tremendous influence over the leaders of the Democratic party in Massachusetts. The fact is that he has never really re-linquished the reins as a behind-the-scenes boss in the

"It is obvious to everyone that Mr. Dever is the political Godfather of Governor Furcolo! "It was Mr. Dever who picked Foster Furcolo out of Congress in 1952 and made him State Treasurer. "It was Mr. Dever who selected Mr. Furcolo as the Democratic candidate for United States Senator in 1954 and as the Democratic candidate for Governor in 1956."

So far Councillor Herter has not said anything which could be disputed or denied unless it is maintained that President Patrick Maginnis was not influenced by the fact that Dever is a former Governor and that he has strong ties with the present administration.

Dever still is one of the most influential leaders in the Democratic party in Massachusetts. He was one of the featured speakers at the big Democratic rally in the Commonwealth Armory last Saturday night. He ran the Jefferson-Jackson fund-raising dinner earlier this year. His influence has been reflected in a number of the appointments Furcolo has made.

Former Governor Dever did appoint Furcolo as State Treasurer in 1952 and start him on the political road to the Governorship. Not only did Dever back Fur-colo for the nomination for U. S. Senator in 1954, but he antangonized Congressman Philip J. Philbin in doing so, and he helped to swing the gubernatorial endorsement to Furcolo again in 1956.

There are those who bewail high school and college athletic programs as we know them today. Spectator once held public office, or that Herter is not on sound ground in his representations.

Herter, continuing his statement, declared:
"There could be little doubt in the mind of anyone as to why the Boston & Maine railroad would appoint former Governor Dever as its counsel. There would be great deal of doubt in the minds of almost everyone as to the propriety of his accepting such an appointment. "No matter is of greater importance to the people of Massachusetts at the present time than the problem of mass transportation, concerning which Governor Furcolo has been strangely silent

"The need for mass transportation is apparent to everyone. It is a major factor in the economy of Greater Boston and of Massachusetts. Week after week and month after month since Governor Furcolo assumed office problems relating to mass transportation have arisen. He has said virtually nothing about them; nor has he taken any constructive action.

"During the past 10 months it has become evident that higher fares alone are not the answer. Indeed, there is evidence that in some instances we may have reached the saturation point—the point of diminishing returns in assessing fares.

"Now we are told that only one other solution is avail--the wholsale cancellation of services to the public.

'That a man of former Governor Dever's position in the Democratic party would suddenly appear as an advo-cate of such cancellations certainly offers cause for commuters to ask what is going on."

Republican politicians are likely to support Herter's arguments and assertions, while Democratic politicos for the most part will dispute and challenge them.

It would be interesting to ascertain how the many thousands of people, whose every-day lives would be affected and disrupted by drastic slashes in commuter railroad services, feel about having former Governor Dever represent one of the railroads involved.

While they haven't said much about it, top Republicans are closely following the hearings on proposed increases in electric light rates. Former Governor Dever's law office is representing the Boston Edison Co. in that case, although Dever himself is not appearing personally as counsel.

Executive Councillor Herter appears to be setting up some of the issues for next year's election campaign.

"I think his brakes are grabbing."

The morning program was conducted by Linda Martenson of Auburndale, mistress of ceremonies, who introduced Evan Johnson, Newton Commissioner of Recreation, as guest of honor.

Following addresses given the assembly by Johnson and Victor Kumin, Newton chairman of the United Fund, "Et Cetera Ad Infinitum", a film depicting the advantages of the United Fund, was shown.

Highlight of the program came when Mrs. Peter Coogan, Newton District chairman of Camp Fire Girls, honored Mrs. Arthur McGrath as "Mother of the Year." Mrs. McGrath's three Camp Fire daughters, Jane, Joan and Ginger, were also present.

As entertainment the group heard a mother-daughter song led by a chorus composed of Mrs. Herbert Barron and Arlene; Mrs. Horace Ransom and Carol; Mrs. Raymond Smith and Deirdre and Penny; Mrs. lison Thompson and Judy; and Mrs. Orazio Vacarro and Phyllis.

Announcement of prize winners of the annual poetry con-test for verse written on United Fund was made by John Harrer, Newton High School English teacher.

$28,000 Total To Date For United Fund

> More than $28,000 was collected in the first few days of Newton's United Fund campaign, according to Victor M. Kumin, area vice chairman.

Tuesday's Bank Night figures show that the response, with one-third of the villages and towns reporting, is running three and one-half times ahead of last year's Red Feather campaign.

The average campaign contribution is at a very high rate, Kumin said, and added, people of Newton are responding generously, and It is clear that the United Fund idea is being supported whole-heartedly. We look forward to next Monday's Bank Night for more encouraging re

The local group, together with other boys and girls of the Greater Boston area, are aiding a drive to collect $100,000 in behalf of some 40,000 mentally retarded children.

Last Sunday the Junior Divi sion of the Greater Boston Association for Retarded Chlidren sponsored a disc jockey basket-ball game at the Boston Arena. Speakers were Michael Lourie of West Newton, president of the association, and Miss Sheila Fishbein, head of the Junior Division. All proceeds went to the Junior Division's contribu tion to the drive.

The Junior Division provides volunteers to work with the children, conducts education programs on the needs of retarded children among youth groups, and assists in the work at headquarters.

at the 1958 legislative session. Dec. 4 is the deadline for fil-

However, it is believed in some quarters at City Hall that Mayor Whitmore may be willing to have the much discussed and highly controversial question placed before the voters of the city and to allow them to decide what, if any, restrictions they desire to impose on the members of their Aldermanic Board as far as holding any other city position is concerned.

Whether a majority of the members of the Legislature would be willing to go along with the idea is, of course, another matter. They might agree to do so since in involves a strictly local matter.

The resolution, which raised the two-job issue, was presented at Monday night's session by Alderman Earle D. Wood of Auburndale.

His measure is more drastic than was the order which the Aldermen adopted a few weeks ago. The referendum suggested by Wood, if adopted by the voters, would prevent an Alderman from holding either a paid or unpaid job in the municipal government.

The order adopted a few weeks ago accepted an old law which simply prohibited an Alderman from holding any paid city position but did not include an unpaid position in the ban. tion Wood read as follows:

"Resolved that the Mayor and the City Solicitor be requested to prepare and submit to the session of the General Court of the Commonwealth, to convene in January, 1958, a bill amending Section 22 of Chapter 283 of the Acts of 1897 (Charter of the City of Newton) to provide that no person who shall be elected, either by original election by the voters or to fill a vacancy by the Board of Aldermen and shall take the oath of office as a member of the Board of Aldermen, shall not during the term for which he shall be so elected hold any other position under the city govern-ment, including its school system, whether or not such position was theretofore held by him and whether or not he is compensated therefore; such bill, if passed, to be effective only on approval by a majority of the voters of the city who shall vote thereon at the biennial State election in Alderman Leo M. Cannon of Newton cast the lone vote against the resolution. Cannon was one of the Aldermen who was opposed by a city employee in the recent election.

The Golden Text is from Psalms (86:4): "Rejoice the soul of thy servant: for unto Thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul."

Guidance Center Studies Problems of Fifteen Pupils

First report on the operations of the Judge Baker Guidance Center in the Newton public schools shows the center has treated 15 emotionally disturbed children.

The center was established in the top floor of the old Peirce School, West Newton, when school opened in September.

The first report was presented to the School Committee by Dr. Edward Landy, director of the division of counselling services, Dr. Bernard Wood, administrator and psychiatrist at the center, and Miss Esther Longfellow, case work superintendent.

Object of the program is one of research and training. It is designed to develop understandthe problems of disturbed children and to give advanced training to graduates in psychiatry, psychology and social work. The Judge Baker foundation provides trained personnel to work with the children.

Dr. Wood told the School Committee that the center has seen children with a wide range of problems thus far in its operaion. They include those who have shown learning difficulties, those who have trouble getting along with teachers, runaways from home and/or school, and children involved in stealing. The children selected for treatment are those with problems and plaque to the memory of The children selected for treatbeyond the capacity of teachers and regular guidance staff members to cope. The Baker staff numbers 10 persons, including one major social worker, two social work internes, one remedial educator and one interne, one staff psychologist and one interne, a psychiatrist, Wood, a psychiatric consultant and another interne.

The center tries to give both the parent and child consciousness of the problem. Many times the parents have personality problems which affect their children and the center tries to help the parent deal with his problem in such a way that it no longer interfers with the child's problem. The staff evaluates its work by checking the child's school progress after treatment.

Waban Educator Rules Out TV as Solution for Shortage of Teachers

Professor Emertitus Warren O. Ault of Fairlee street, Waban, 44-year veteran of teaching at Boston University, rules out television as a possible "solution" to the teacher shortage but believes it will eventually exert some constructive influences on education.

He sees no possibility the teacher will be replaced by TV but observes "teachers can learn to use television just as they once had to learn to use printing. "Good teachers are always on the lookout for new facilities -but education is largely a contagion and an apprenticeship for the student: it must go from person to person," Dr. Ault declared. He considers the teacher-stu-

cent relationship - missing TV-indispensable, say from ing: "A student who has missed warm, personal friendship with at least one teacher has missed day as there is no refrigeration. one of the fundamentals of an education.'

Dr. Ault pointed out that there was not necessarily one single best method of teaching. "I believe in education but I'm not committed to any one kind. Every good teacher observes closely the reaction of his students. He cannot teach them beyond their capacity to learn," he observed.

Therefore, Dr. Ault views television as a "potentially useful tool" by which the teacher will augment the changeless fundamentals of teaching.

A history professor at Boston University since 1913, Professor Ault has given courses in Amer ican and European history but hi s specialty is English consti tutional history. Since his formal retirement in June, he has continued as a part-time instructor at the college of liberal

The girls of the well-known club raised $15,000 for charity with last year's event; they have set their quota higher this year.

Additional interest is added to the party this year inasmuch as it marks the tenth anniversary of the annual charity event.

The main ballroom of the Hotel Bradford will be the scene of the dance where music will be provided by the Crobus Band. Tickets may be procured at the door.

The Curri Club comprises approximately 80 high school girls from Newton and Brookline. Officers of the club are: Marjorie Wallace, president; Linda Rubin, vice-president; Harriet Hoffman, secretary, and Marsha Rosenberg, treasurer.

The incentive to top last tenth anniversary have set the girls to planning the most suc-cessful event in the decade.

Christmas Seals in 1957

Between Thanksgiving and Christmas each year for more than half a century Christmas seals have been sold. Volunteer workers did the selling. They appeared on a large percentage of the mail which the postal folk moved. They sort of gave the letters and the packages that Christmasy look.

But they did a lot more than that. The public bought them in such a volume that little by little a dread human scourge called tuberculosis, the White Plague and TB began to disappear.

The lives it claimed became smaller in number each year. The science of medicine hailed that as one of the most amazing of its 20th Century accomplishments. And well it might.

The sale of Christmas seals wasn't completely responsible, but if you'll consider the matter a little and examine the records you'll find that the money which was realized by their sale was one of the greatest single factors in the

They are still selling Christmas seals. That's because tuberculosis is still a dread disease. It is far from completely wiped out.

That's why they continue to sell Christmas seals. For tuberculosis can be prevented, controlled and cured today. It infects 100,000 persons each year. It causes 15,000 deaths every 12 months. The sale of those seals will help in many ways to bring about the final erradication of the disease, perhaps. But that day is still far in the offing. When you buy those seals, you will be helping to cure some 250,000 people known to have active TB. You will be helping to find those many thousands of unknown persons carrying the tubercle bacillis. You will be helping to return the cured TB patient to a productive place in his

You will be helping to find a swift and definite cure for the disease.

That's a lot to accomplish.

It will give you a feeling of helping when you buy

You'll be sort of proud when you apply them to your letters and your gifts.

Unsung Election Heroes A special word of commendation is in order for the honest, competent job, and little, if any, thought is given to the mechanics of the task they perform. The two recounts conducted, one for Ward Alderman from Ward 1 and the other for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 2, pointed up the fact that they did an exceptionally accurate job. The mistakes uncovered were practically negligible. At the same time, however, Newton should face up to the fact that eventually it must equip its polling places with voting machines, as other progressive and forwardlooking communities have done

The turnout for the recent city election was smallmuch smaller than it would have been if a Mayor had been elected.

The idea of spending long, tedious hours counting paper ballots after a great outpouring of voters for a presidential, gubernatorial or mayoralty election is now

Mistakes under those conditions are inevitable. In fact, it is remarkable that the election officers turned in as accurate an account as they did of a light vote. This is one instance in which Newton has not kept abreast of the changing times.

It is clear, however, that Curtis no longer is as enthusiastic about standing for the Governorship as he was in 1952, when he originally set his political sights on the Governor's chair.

Since then he has served five years on Washington's Capitol Hill. He obviously enjoyed his role as Congressman and apparently is content to retain it rather than to strike out for higher honors.

Aside from Curtis' own personal attitude on the matter, some uncertainty is gradually developing as to bill will be passed at the next legislative session to place whether Bay State Republican leaders could clear the on the ballot the question whether capital punishment will GOP gubernatorial field for Congressman Curtis or anyone be abolished or retained in this State. else if they were to undertake to do so.

When a group of top Republican chieftains prevailed upon Christian A. Herter in the spring of 1952 to give up his seat in Congress and stand against Paul A. Dever, the field was partially cleared for Herter because Curtis immediately shifted from the gubernatorial to the congressional field. Even then, however, Herter's path was not completely cleared because the die-hard supporters of Sumner Whittier made a last-ditch effort to obtain the Republican gubernatorial endorsement for him at the Worcester pre- in support of a move to ascertain just how Bay State primary convention. former Republican State Committee Chairman Elmer C.

Neither present GOP State Chairman Charles Gibbons nor Attorney General George Fingold has yet announced his candidacy for Governor, although there is no doubt but that both intend to do so shortly after the first of the year

After Gibbons and Fingold formally enter the gu-bernatorial lists, it is highly improbable that any amount of argument or persuasion could then induce either of them to withdraw

That would mean that any other candidate drafted would be obliged to battle them for delegate votes at the pre-primary convention.

It is unlikely that Congressman Curtis, who after three victories and five years service is pretty strongly entrenched in his 10th congressional district, would have much enthusiasm for such a fight within his own party.

Aside from Curtis, the Republicans who have been mentioned as the possible objects of a gubernatorial draft are Governor's Councillor Christian A. Herter, Jr. Newton Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., and former Executive Councillor Bruce Crane of Dalton.

What applies to Curtis is generally true also of each of them. None of the three has any present disposition to strike out next year for the Governorship. Each of the three would instinctively back away from a knock-down struggle within the framework of the GOP.

It's possible that the Republican bigwigs in the top echelons of their party will sit down and decide they want some candidate other than Gibbons or Fingold. They may do something equivalent to what they did in 1952, when they persuaded Herter to run.

But if they are going to do it, they would have to move in the fairly near future. The political die will be pretty well cast if they wait much beyond the end of the year. By that time it might be too late.

Dever's Law Office Has No Connection With Edison Case

This writer was mistaken last week in reporting that former Governor Paul A. Dever's law office is representing the Boston Edison Company at the hearing on proposed increases in electric light rates. Dever has been engaged as counsel for the Boston & Maine railroad. A member of his office is serving as counsel to the State Public Utilities Commission in the telephone rate case. But neither Dever nor his office has any connection with the Edison

Gov. Furcolo's Appointments

A sports columnist on one of the Boston daily newspapers loaded up both barrels the other day and blasted out Governor Furcolo's appointment of Herman Greenberg of Ludlow to the State Boxing Commission.

The main point of the columnist's loud and vigorous complaint was that Mr. Greenberg's appointment was strictly a political one. His column must have caused a lifting of eyebrows in political quarters when it was read.

The fact is that with very few exceptions the major appointments Governor Furcolo has made during the 11 months he has been in office have been entirely politi-Mr. Greenberg happened to wander into the fire of er part in influencing the appointments made under Furcolo than in any other recent administration on Beacon That doesn't mean that some of them were not men of

But practically all of them received their appointments because of political reasons, a fact which is pointed up by the sports columnist's protest concerning the

Boxing Commission. A number of advocates of the retention of capital punishment, among them outspoken Governor's Councillor Charles J. Gabriel are coming around to the belief that the soundest step they could take might be to place the issue before the voters of Massachusetts. As a result there is an increasing likelihood that a

Those persons who would like to see the electric chair at State Prison junked entirely are not likely to raise any forceful objection to a referendum on the matter, while those who favor capital punishment are beginning to suspect that a vote of the people is about the only thing which will cause the electrocution of any Massachusetts murderer.

Strangely enough, the commutations of the death sentences which had been imposed upon Domenick Bonomi and Henry F. Arsenault, have strengthened sentiment

If the people were to vote to retain capital punishment the Governor and Council would still have the authority to commute a death sentence, although they would be much less likely to use it.

Praises Graphic The Editor, The Newton Graphic,

Dear Sir: Your paper deserves commendation for reporting to your subscribers an accurate picture "Newton's Dog Problem." Your excellent editorial of Sept 12 displayed understanding and concern regarding this serious situation which might erupt into a tragedy at any time.

Like you, I am a dog lover, and believe that a dog and a child are ideal companions. But uncontrolled dogs in Newton are imperilling our children's safety, creating fear and terror in small children which may remain with them through life, depriving our youngsters of healthful outdoor education and recreation, wasting the time, talents and training of our teachers, thus reducing efficient use of our tax dollars. Bluntly, our children are be-ing cheated and endangered in order that dogs may be free. The irony in this is that experts on animal health and welfare agree that unrestricted freedom for dogs is undesirable and hazardous for our pets.

Education of the public is sorely needed. The Graphic is a fine medium for this. Please continue.

Prudishness

Editor, Newton Graphic

I had thought the last vestiges of puritanical prudishness had gone from our midst, but the recent action of the Newton Board of Aldermen (Graphic, Nov. 7) in voting against Sunday bowling has indicated the contrary to be true. Whenever I encounter something like this I am invariably led to question the ethics, if not the motivation, of the actors. At the latest, this rabid insistence on meaningher face, "when they're ahead less and superficial observance should have disappeared with

I hope that eventually the Board of Aldermen will realize tiquated ethics on the citizenry "Not if man observes in general, they can hardly be endship by turning him considered as acting in a manner contrbutory to the development of free human behavior in an area that is morally allow-

Dear Sir: Perhaps "Roped-In" has answered by implication his or her question in inquiring what is the matter with the Cub Scout program that parents have to be pressured into participating. People are trying to do too much. I recently read an article by a writer on childhood problems, which stated in essence that our children are exhausted by "enrichment" activities so they rarely have moments left to sit and grow, that they begin piano and ballet before they can coordinate, or know their right hand from left, and abandon these when they really

Every S-Block, many students can be seen busily running around the school, attempting to supply the anxious demands of their home-rooms with dance tickets, school newspapers, Red Cross Pins, and assorted items.

At many of the ensuing meetings of the Exchange, individual students will present reports comparing Newton and New England with the town to which they are going. These talks are concerned with such subjects as government, school history, business, and the arts. Some participants in this activity are Ruth Evans, Linda McKenney, Nancy Michelson, Ann Precious, Mary Small, Natalie Smith, Ernie Glickman, Cole Letteney, Harold Metcalf, Dan Morrison, Charles Rosenbaum, and Liz Brown.

To Hold Series Of Courses On Skin Diving

A series of courses in skin diving will be offered by the Newton YMCA starting next Wednesday (Dec. 4), according to James H. Rogers, chairman of the Physical Education Committee.

The courses will consist of three sessions meeting once each week and will be taught by Phillip Amero, William Golden and Raymond Martin, all offithe Cambridge Skin Divers' Club, and certified in-structors of the New England Council of Skin Divers.

Each course will contain fundamental instruction in the use of diving apparatus with primary stress being placed on safety factors. All equipment will be furnished including aqua-lungs, weights, and feetflippers. Successful completion of the course will lead to the individual being certified as having properly passed an in-troductory course in Skin Diving. Such certification will soon be necessary before an individual can obtain personal equipment.

The course is open to the public and Monday, Dec. 2, is the deadline for applications for the first session starting Dec. 4.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Edward R. DiPersio, Physical Director of the Newton YMCA.

would be worthwhile. And that they are begun in scouting when they are eight, and by 10 scout ing, which should be a land of great wonder and idealism, has lest its bloom for many children. That in other words, children are left to "want" nothing, a thing is given them before they barely think of it and much of its value is lost.

Very often the parents of an eight-year-old have two or three smaller children, perhaps a baby, whom they simply cannot make disappear when it is time for a scout meeting or the preparation therefor. Parents are told Cub leadership takes only an hour a week, but of what value in a scouting program would be just one hour a week, without any preparation by someone, whose only qualification is the time to spare, or inability to say "no."

Our son is not yet of age to be a cub scout, but shortly when will be I shall not, because of two preschool children with their requirement for constant watchfulness and the household duties attendant to a family, be able to take on a pack. Lest it be thought that this is just an excuse anyhow, when I had less home cares, I was an interested adult helper with a group of older Girl Scouts, and probably shall be again someday. Myerberg and Samual Shames. Nor do I even care whether our son is a Cub Scout. I certainly hope, however, that he will en joy working up to a First Class, or possibly an Eagle Scout at a later age.

Children of 8 and 9 have enough organization in school life. They are hardly ready for the valuable lessons that organized scouting has to offer as witness the "clubs" they form with elaborate ritual, dues, etc., which are abandoned in a day or week. Let these children live and breathe and run, and by 10 or 11, they will be looking forward to the big idea of being a scout, led by parents, who want to participate and give valuable leadership, more of whom have grown families and are not tied down by routine child care.

If there is a group of small boys, who just must be Cubs, Alpha Chapter of Israel Phi pledgees have been busy recently in post-school hours in the Bonds for Israel drive. along," seems to defeat the essence of scouting. And better abandon every shred of Cub Scouting than to say to a child, 'you can't belong because your nother is unable or unwilling to participate." What kind of a scout like attitude does this

The annual Christmas bazaar of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Concord street, Newton Lower Falls will be held Dec. 7, in the parish hall from 10 a.m. to 8

For months members of the Women's Auxiliary have been making plans which have had as their aim the creation of different and unusual gifts, especially designed for those "frustrating people" who have everything. At the same time haven't neglected items which everyone counts upon acquiring at a church fair aprons, dish cloths, knitted articles, food, candy, etc.

There will be refreshments to prevent little hunger pains from nterfering with the shopping. In charge of the morning coffee (10 a.m. to 11:45 a.m.) will be Thomas Norcross; Mrs. Mrs. Galen Clevenger will direct the luncheon (noon to 1:30 p.m.; Mrs. Roger Loring, the after noon tea (3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.) and John Power, the dinner (5:30 p.m. to 7). The dinner will be by reservation.

In charge of the various tables are: Mrs. R. G. Miss Kaufman Named To Post By State Board

Miss June Kaufman of 219 Chestnut street, West Newton, has been appointed co-ordinator of health education for the State Commission on Alcoholism. She is a graduate of the New York School of Social Work and was a consultant for the Junior Red Cross in New York City.

On State Committee For Educational TV

Two Newton residents have been named to an executive committee to co-ordinate and

By LEE LOUMOS

The television world might adopt as its latest theme song that old tune, "Till See You in C-U-B-A"...as result of the new system that has been put into service for transmitting television programs between Cuba and the United States.

This news might seem to be more exciting for the Cubans than it is for any of us — except for the fact that it breaks ground for further development of "over-the-horizon" TV transmission, and therefore acts as an important stepping-stone toward world-wide television.

As you know, television signals are normally transmitted on a "line-of-sight" basis, which means that relay stations must be set up about 30 miles apart. But the two transmission terminals in Cuba and Florida are 185 miles apart.

The system is known as "tropospheric scatter propagation"... and, briefly, it works like this: The television signal passes beyond the curvature of the earth and enters the troposphere (an air mass that surrounds the earth), then a small part of the signal is reflected downward to the receiving antenna.

That's just one of the new developments in television... and if you'd like to learn about a flock of others, stop in and let us point out the exciting features that Sylvania offers in their 1958 series of TV models. They include the "Closs-To-The-Wall" design that puts an end to the old problems of floor space and furniture arrangement. See it now,
